

Invites You to a Free Seminar
Comparative Oncology Event
“Changing the Course of Cancer”

When: Wednesday March 7, 2012
Where: University of Minnesota
Time: 6:30 PM - Hors d'oeuvres followed by Presentation

- Human and Animal Cancers • the connections between them •
- exciting new therapies • available for people & pets •

Did you know?

- Humans and dogs share similar genes and suffer from many of the same types of Cancer
- Veterinarians, Physicians and Research Scientists have joined forces to develop innovative Cancer treatments that benefit both Humans and Animals
- The University of Minnesota is the Leader in this revolutionary field of Comparative Oncology

An Invitation to Support This Important Research:

Platinum:	$1,000.00 +
Gold:	$500.00 - $999.99
Silver:	$100.00 - $499.99

For Complete Information Please Contact:

Sally Sweatt bushaway@earthlink.net • Andrea Chisholm - andrea.chisholm@gmail.com • David Runkle - dave_runkle@msn.com

Hosted by The Lake Minnetonka Kennel Club
Presented by

The University of Minnesota Veterinary School & The Masonic Cancer Center

Masonic Cancer Center
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA